

"Provided, that no greater amount of revenue be collected from imports than is necessary to defray the expenses of the Government."

Mr. Murray then moved further to amend the said second resolution, by adding thereto the following:

"Including the proceeds of sales of the public lands ;"

Which was read.

On the question being put,

Will the House assent to the said amendment?

On motion of Mr. Causin,

The yeas and nays were required and appeared as follows :

So the said amendment was assented to,

The question then recurred on assenting to the said second resolution as amended ;

On motion of Mr. Tuck,

The question upon the said second resolution was so divided as to be first put on all that part of it, to the word "provided," to wit :

"Resolved, That in levying duties to pay the debts, and to provide for the common defence and general welfare of the United States, it is not only the right but the duty of Congress to levy them in such manner as will promote and protect American industry, American labor, and the interest of the American people."

Before it was put,
